In today's Gospel, Jesus reminds His disciples that they are "the salt of the earth." When we think of salt, we usually think of flavor, but for Jesus' listeners, the primary meaning was likely preservation—salt's essential role was keeping meat from spoiling. In the same way, Jesus calls His followers to preserve the gospel message in the world by living in His grace and according to His teachings. When we compromise our lives by turning away from Him, we fail to "preserve" the good, true, and beautiful. The result of this is spiritual spoil. This is evident in a culture that increasingly moves away from a Christian worldview, leaving many feeling distant from God. But we are "the light of the world." Our faith is not meant to be hidden, but to shine through our words and actions. Others should see our hope & charity and wonder: "Why is she always so hopeful despite challenges?" or "Why does he go out of his way to help others?" The answer, made visible in our daily lives, should be unmistakable: Jesus. Let us bear witness throughout the world of the God we serve as a city set on a hill!

New Online Giving Platform

We are implementing Flocknote as our online giving platform. If you are currently using myEoffering you may continue to use it until March 31. While myEoffering has been efficient, we do pay a monthly fee for using it. This fee is in addition to the per donation fee that you see with your donation.

Flocknote online giving is straightforward: just an industry-standard 2.9% + $0.30 per transaction (or 1.1% + $0.30 for ACH). A $50 donation through our current program using ach would actually be $50.30. With Flocknote it is $50.86. These fees are counted as part of your donation.

Registered members of our parish already have a Flocknote account so there is no need to create one. Your Flocknote account is the email address where you receive your weekly bulletin.

ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL

FEBRUARY 2026

You're Getting on My Nerves!

7th and 8th grade students explored how the nervous system detects touch through a hands-on experiment. After learning how neurons send signals to the brain, students formed hypotheses about sensitivity in different parts of the body. Using paper clips spaced at varying distances, they tested their fingertips, arms, and necks to see when they felt one point versus two. Students recorded their data and reflected on their results, gaining a deeper understanding of how nerve density affects our sense of touch.

Exciting New Centers in Pre-School

Mrs. Sheila introduced several exciting new learning centers to celebrate students' return to school after many snow days. Students were thrilled to discover a laundry-folding station, a construction table, a light table filled with Arctic animals, and a kitchen stocked with real baking materials. Each center invited hands-on exploration, creativity, and plenty of excitement as students eagerly dove back into learning.

Ash Wednesday- Feb. 18th

Masses with the Imposition of Ashes will be offered on Ash Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Ash Wednesday marks the beginning of Lent and is a day of fasting and abstinence for Catholics. Fasting means one full meal and two smaller meals that together do not equal a full meal, while abstinence means refraining from meat. We observe these practices as an act of penance and preparation for Easter.

New $1,000 standard deduction charity break in 2026

With taxes on everyone's mind, we wanted to share this update for next year's tax season:

Do you typically claim the standard deduction on your federal taxes? You're in luck. Beginning in 2026, there's a new deduction you could take. The non-itemizer charitable deduction is available for all taxpayers claiming the standard deduction, worth up to $1,000 ($2,000 for joint filers).

Here are a few fast facts on this key tax break:

- Only cash contributions qualify (checks, credit card charges, online donations and payroll deductions are considered "cash" in this instance).
- The donation must be made to a qualified 501(c)(3) public charity (<https://www.irs.gov/charities-non-profits/tax-exempt-organization-search>).

Donut Sunday- Today!

Today's Donut Sunday is sponsored by Ethan and Kristi Garton.

Please consider sponsoring a Donut Sunday to provide a social space for parishioners with delicious treats. The cost of a Donut Sunday is typically $250. Contact Sandy at the parish office to sponsor at 304-269-3048.

CATHOLIC QUESTIONS & CATHOLIC ANSWERS

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION:

Q: Can you give some specific examples of how we can evangelize without making people feel uncomfortable, which is often the reaction, even among other believers?

A: Great question. Evangelism is certainly something that gets us out of our comfort zone. Here are my thoughts:

1) Get comfortable with being uncomfortable. Jesus has always shaken things up and He doesn't seem to have plans to stop any time soon. His very name makes people uncomfortable in social settings (even among Christians!) This is because Jesus demands a response from us: we either give Him our whole lives or nothing at all. This reality can (and should) make people uncomfortable. If you offer the gospel to someone and that message is rejected, we do not take it personally—we entrust the person to God and continue to love them. On this theme, Peter Kreeft's book: Jesus Shock is a helpful resource on the unsettling nature of Christ.

2) Avoid trying to force people to accept Christ. As His disciples, we are obligated to share the life He offers, but never by force or coercion. Jesus tells the disciples that when the Gospel is rejected, they are to "shake the dust from their feet" and move on (Mt 10:14). This reminds us that conversion is ultimately God's work, not ours, and that God respects human freedom. We are allowed to reject Him (though we are not free from the consequences of that rejection). In this light, the Church teaches that authentic evangelization must always respect the freedom and dignity of the person. The goal is not to pressure or persuade at all costs, but to propose the Gospel with love, trusting the Holy Spirit to work in hearts.

3) Live as an example. From my own experience and working with other converts, this seems to be the number one evangelizer: sincerely living the faith. When you meet people who are truly alive in Christ their fruits show it. A couple of years back, someone in OCIA recounted why they did not go to the church of one of their friends who often invited them: "Why would I go to Church with someone who I have gossiped with?" This testimony hit hard! How can we, on one hand, invite someone into our faith and on the other hand contradict it? A life that exemplifies the fruits of the Holy Spirit will draw people in. Today's gospel reminds us that we (Christians) are a city on a hill and we should let our light shine for all to see-- not to glorify ourselves but for the glory of God. Therefore, examine your speech, your Facebook posts, the way you treat others, how you present yourself, your priorities.... these will speak volumes about the God you serve.

It is important to remember that this is not an excuse to never share your faith in words but is a vital place to start evangelizing. Our words will not matter if our actions do not align.

4) Truly walk with people. I have not met many people who have come to faith simply because someone asked them, "Do you know Jesus?" or handed them a Gospel tract. While those things can have value, they often feel impersonal—especially when they come from a stranger. By contrast, when someone is genuinely charitable and friendly—listening, inviting you to coffee, and building real relationship—it says: "I care about you as a person, not as a project." When faith does come up, continue walking with them by answering questions, inviting them (and going with them) to OCIA or Bible studies, and eventually to Mass when they're ready (Mass can feel confusing at first, so I don't recommend starting here. When it is time, accompaniment matters).

5) Ask the big questions. Once you are walking with a friend, you can steer conversations toward faith by asking questions that get to the heart of what it means to be human. Discuss things like:

- How do you think the earth came to be?
- What do you think our purpose on earth is?
- What do you think happens when we die?
- Where do you think our sense of right/wrong comes from?
- What does love mean?

Have an answer ready for your perspective as a Catholic (knowing your faith is SO important!). If your friend offers answers that are contrary to the Catholic faith you can say: "Well, have you ever thought of it this way?" Remember that you can acknowledge that you see their perspective without saying that you also believe that way.
